

NATIONAL SORRY DAY

26 MAY

We remember the people of the Stolen Generation who were removed from their country, culture, language and families.

The native hibiscus, or desert rose, is a flower that grows and thrives through the harshest regions of Australia.

Members of the Stolen Generation chose the flower to symbolise their strength, resilience and courage.

The colour purple represents healing and compassion.